

REPEATS THE CONFESSION

Chief of Police Sipp of Hamilton Gives as Evidence Sherman's Confession.

The Defense Loses an Important Point in the Sherman Case.

The defense in the case of Charles V. Sherman, who is being tried at Hamilton for wife murder, yesterday suffered a severe blow at the hands of the Hamilton Chief of Police, who was allowed to testify as to the confession made by Sherman while in the Hamilton hospital.

The Chief of Police said that Sherman had stated, among other things, "I first hit her with my fist, then with a chair and then with a hatchet."

The first witness called at the opening of the case Tuesday was L. C. Overpeck by whom it was intended to introduce certain photographs taken of the house and the room in which the crime was committed.

Albert P. Wagner was then called. He testified that he was a funeral director and that between 6:30 and on the evening of August 24, 1904, he was called to the Sherman residence at 41 Sycamore street, to take charge of the body of Mrs. Sherman. He described the scenes at the house upon his arrival.

Witness took the body to his place and prepared it for burial. He stated that he was present at the autopsy held by Dr. Bryan Sharkey and described the injuries.

Under the instructions of the coroner, witness said he took charge of the clothing of the murdered woman, the hatchet, knife and broken chair found in the house and kept them until he delivered them to the grand jury. Witness identified a waist worn by Mrs. Sherman when she was killed, and the knife, hatchet and broken chair which were offered in evidence.

On cross examination Wagner said that he could not swear that the hatchet produced in court was the same one he had taken from the Sherman house, but he said, "I don't think anyone would want to switch hatchets."

Witness described the dead woman as about 5 feet 9 or 8 inches in height, weighing about 160 pounds.

Wagner dropped the information that he had been to the office of the prosecutor in the morning before court convened. The defense immediately grasped at this and proceeded to enlarge upon it. Wagner said he went there in order to identify the clothing.

The next witness called was Chas. Letsche, whose home was across the street from the Sherman's. He told of being one of the party that had first found the couple. He corroborated the statements of other witnesses as to what Sherman had said to them. Letsche said he didn't think Sherman was unconscious while being taken to the hospital.

All through the testimony there have been frequent interruptions, especially on the part of the prosecutor, while witnesses were in the middle of their answers, by inserting leading questions and other irrelevant remarks. The court cautioned the counsel on either side not to thus interrupt.

John Welsh, who lived two doors west of the Shermans was next called. He described entering the house after the tragedy, repeating, in the essential particulars, what preceding witnesses have told of observing. When being cross examined the defense sought to show that a large crowd of people, as many as thirty or forty, entered the house and went through it. Welsh said policemen were stationed at the doors while he was there, and there were many people outside.

The singular part of it is that in this serious trial which brings out the most gruesome events, occur frequently those humorous little tilts between the attorneys which may serve a good purpose and which may not.

Monday afternoon the testimony of Mayor Bosch, of Hamilton, was concluded and three other witnesses, Officers Kramer, Dulle and Dr. Sharkey, were also on the stand.

Officer Kramer had been one of the first to enter the house after the tragedy. He said he heard Sherman say, "Gentlemen, this is all a case of jealousy. She wanted to go away to work and I didn't want her to."

At this point, the prosecutor walked up to the witness stand and began talking to witness in a low tone. The attorney for the defense immediately raised objection strenuously, charging him with prompting a witness. The prosecutor denied it and for a minute sparks flew.

Officer Dulle was next called. He also was among the first to enter the Sherman home. He remembered hearing Sherman saying, "Did you ever think I would do a thing like this?"

Dr. Bryan Sharkey, of Middletown, O., brother of the coroner, was next called. He told of having made an examination of the body at the morgue. He described the various wounds and said the cause of death was a fracture of the skull. Any one of the four fractures could have caused death, he said. The attorney for the defense sought in his cross examination of the witnesses to show that several of the injuries were accidentally self-inflicted in a terrific struggle.

Court finally adjourned at five minutes till six o'clock.

Charles V. Sherman the accused man, sits, hour after hour, just back of his attorneys, with body bent forward and occupying only the edge of the chair. He has not been seen to rest back in his chair at any time. He does not appear disturbed however, but listens intently to every word during the trial.

This wheat weighs 61 pounds to the bushel, and the car contained 1100 bushels for which he paid $1311.20. This is at the rate of about $1.20 per bushel and is the highest price paid for wheat since the Leiter deal. The freight charge on this car of wheat was $36.00.

THE REBEKAHS HOLD MEETING

Local Lodge Holds Interesting Session on Tuesday Night.

Mrs. Rose Farr Talbot, President of Indiana Rebekah Assembly Visits Local Lodge.

Last evening at a special meeting of the Rushville Rebekah Lodge, installing officer, Mrs. Addie Mattox, installed the following officers for the ensuing term:

Mrs. Belle Allen, Noble Grand.
Mrs. E. W. Ball, Vice Grand.
Mrs. J. H. Brown, Recording Secretary.

Mrs. Chas. Broadhead, Financial Secretary.

Mrs. J. W. Wilson, Treasurer.
Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Past Grand.

After the installation, Mrs. Rose Farr Talbot, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Indiana, delivered a splendid address to those present. She spoke of the cardinal principles of the order of Odd Fellows—Friendship, Love and Truth—and of the splendid manner in which the same was being exemplified every day by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs; of the beautiful home for aged Odd Fellows, their wives and orphans that was being conducted at Greensburg, sheltering within its walls over seventy old people and children. Also of the new home which would be completed within the next five months at the same place. She also gave the statistics of the order, showing its rapid growth in both branches and of the vast sums of money that were being expended daily for the sick and afflicted. She urged upon the members a close conformity to the teachings of the decree and urged them to take as their examples those noble women of the Bible upon whose good works the Rebekah degree is founded.

Mrs. Talbot is one of the most brilliant and talented ladies who have ever filled the chair as President of the Rebekah Assembly, and those who were not present to hear her, missed one of the most enjoyable events in the history of Rebekahism in this city.

After the conclusion of the address, light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

DISTRICT MEETING

There will also be plenty of good music and other features of entertainment. TO ASK AID.

Appropriation of $25,000 Wanted to Improve Experiment Stations.

At the corn school at Purdue University a movement was started toward obtaining an appropriation of $25,000 from the State Legislature to improve the experiment stations over the State and to widen their field of work. Samuel Slosser, chairman of the joint legislative committee of the Corn Growers' and Stockmen's Association appeared before the corn school and told of the movement. Petitions are now being circulated and will reach the hands of the members of the Legislature from every part of the State. The petition was given to each person who attended the corn school and will be taken home by them, when the members of the Legislature will be deluged by their respective constituents, appealing for aid in experimental work of the State.

APPLAUDED

Senator Hendee Takes a Strong Stand for Temperance Bill.

During the discussion of the temperance bill in the Senate Tuesday, Senator E. E. Hendee, from Rush, Hancock and Madison counties, in his address took a strong stand for the bill. His words received hearty applause from the temperance leaders in the lobby and galleries.

"This bill, if enacted, will do nothing more than give the people the right to decide what they will have and what they will not have," said Senator Hendee.

"According to such a law my community, if it did not want a saloon in its midst, could say so effectively. Some other community which did want a liquor house could have it. If my community does not want a saloon, thank God it is not compelled to have it. The bill simply refers the liquor question back to the people, and we should never be afraid to refer these questions back to the people."

THE SENATE FAVORS IT

Temperance Forces Renew Their Courage in Action of Upper House.

Senate Has Also Passed a Bill for a State Monument to Oliver P. Morton.

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—The victory of the temperance forces in the senate, which has advanced the Moore bill, while not so complete as hoped for, is nevertheless very pleasing to those who are interested in the proposed reform. The advocates of the radical change in the Nicholson law had anticipated more trouble in the senate than in the house, inasmuch as the liquor interests were paying more attention to the senate. The amendment provides that a remonstrance may be against any or all applicants of the township or ward for a period of two years.

The Guiri bill, which is pending before the house and which has Governor Hanly's endorsement, provides that one remonstrance shall stand against all applicants, not any or all. This latter provision was made necessary in the senate in order to get the bill through in any form.

The ways and means committee has reported favorably the Springer bill for a new southeastern Indiana hospital for the insane. An appropriation of $56,000 is authorized.

A bill prohibiting county commissioners from granting franchises on country roads to railroad and interurban companies has been reported favorably.

The bill appropriating $35,000 for a monument to Oliver P. Morton passed the senate by a vote of 32 to 13.

A bill making Saturday afternoon a legal holiday with banks and trust companies in Indianapolis, Evansville, Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and South Bend was passed by the senate.

Among the important bills introduced in the house were: To prohibit the location of saloons within 500 feet of school buildings; to make the county surveyor the supervisor of ditches; to appoint additional deputy in office of superintendent of public instruction; to permit county commissioners to build ditches on private property in making public improvements; to increase salaries of township trustees from $2 to $3 a day; providing that county commissioners may make contracts for auditing of county officers' books without appropriation; to permit mortgage tax exemption of $1,500; providing for rebate on taxes on forest lands; abolishing $10,000 limit as measure of damages for accidental death by another's carelessness; abolishing use of screen doors, frosted windows and other obstructions to view into saloons, and confining business to one room; to abolish days of grace on notes; to appropriate $8,000 for maintenance of blind men who have learned no trade; to make terms of city school superintendents four years; to prohibit drainage of fresh water lakes and placing the county surveyor in charge of work of cleaning drain allotments; providing that parole boards shall serve notice for application for parole.

OLD CRIME REVIVED

Butte, Mont., Feb. 1.—Charged by Addin Courtney with murdering nine year old Ethel Gill seven years ago Eugene Holbeck, a tailor, has been arrested here. The woman said she discovered the crime not long after it was committed but concealed it from fear of Holbeck. Holbeck declares the woman invented the story out of spite.

HIS FREEDOM DIDN'T LAST LONG

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 1.—The postoffice at Laotto, this county, was entered and the safe was looted of its contents. The exact amount of funds stolen is unknown, but includes stamps and cash. The robbers are supposed to have stolen a horse and sleigh, which was afterwards found some miles away.

THE SILVER JUBILEE.

Of Ground Hog Day Will be Celebrated in Indiana Thursday.

Indiana is expected to celebrate Thursday, February 2d, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the passage, by the State Legislature, of a bill to recognize ground hog day, and fix the date for all time.

Twenty-five years ago Representative P. L. D. Mitchell, of Monroe county, introduced a bill, in which it was set forth that henceforth Mr. G. Hog was to make his appearance on the second day of the second month of every year and for all time. The bill passed without discussion and without dissenting vote. It was approved by the Senate and the Governor signed it.

FAVOR SOLDIERS

Much Legislation on Behalf of Veterans is Proposed.

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—There seems to be a decided disposition this time to legislate in favor of the soldiers. Senator Lyons' bill giving veterans of the Spanish-American and Philippine wars preference over all applicants for minor positions at state institutions has passed the senate and will probably pass in the house. Representative Shively of South Bend has introduced a bill to compel the state soldiers' home to care for the widows of veterans. Senator Bell has a bill for a tax of not more than 3 cents on the $100 to maintain county soldiers' monuments. Representative McHenry has offered to exempt soldiers and marines from taxation on $1,000 worth of property. The senate has passed a bill appropriating $35,000 for a monument in honor of Oliver P. Morton the great war governor. In addition to these measures in behalf of the veterans the legislative visitation committee recommended an appropriation of $50,000 for a soldiers' widows' building at the soldiers' home in Lafayette.

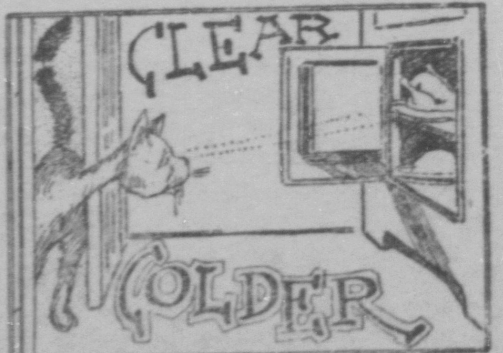

USED BUGGY WHIP

Miss Carrie Gray, teacher in the primary room of the Flat Rock schools was whipped by Mrs. Daniel J. Hawkins, Tuesday morning at the home of Lewis Parrish, in Flat Rock, where the school teacher was boarding. The trouble arose because Miss Gray had whipped Roy Hawkins, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. Hawkins at her school room Monday afternoon. The teacher says she whipped the boy because he had taken books that belonged to other pupils and made marks in them, and because he had acted unruly throughout the entire day. The school principal is looking into the matter and the teacher it is understood will prosecute.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY

"This is one on the reporter, who humbly offers an apology. Tuesday we mixed our dates and announced that the city council would meet that night. This announcement was further brought about by a city official who himself thought that the council would meet that night, and in conversation with the Republican representative said so. The city council will meet next Tuesday night, February 7th.

RUSHVILLE IND. FEB. 1, 1905

The general sentiment is unfavorable to the January election of road supervisors, says the LaGrange Standard. The truth is, the Huntington Herald adds, the Legislature made a serious mistake, among many others recently, in the consolidation of elections. During a few years past the law seems to have been made for the promotion of machine politics, and inspired by an element altogether blind to appreciation of American government. The township unit must not be robbed of dignity and independence. The township election ought to be restored, separate and independent, for the choice of all township officers. It is not necessary to use the township offices as a part of the Presidential game. The great argument made by the consolidators is the expense of separate elections. The money is all spent at home, for neighborhood service. Public money cannot be spent for a more worthy object than honest and independent elections, and plenty of them.

The time for the opening of the sugar camps is near at hand when there will be a fresh supply of the delicious maple syrup. This also brings up the subject of the adulteration of the maple products, which it is claimed, is practiced to some extent. The adulteration of food products—like the oleo and other frauds—is likely to act as a boomerang, for the glucosid and cane-sugared mixture, instead of extending the uses of maple, but instead is killing the demand. Consumers may buy the stuff freely for a while, but, like consumers of diluted honey and similar products, they soon become tired of it and stay tired ever after, joining the ranks of those who doubt the existence of the real article and deny its excellence. Poor stuff of any kind kills the market and is the worst possible kind of advertising. Mixtures cannot be forbidden, but regulations should be most strictly enforced requiring the stuff which is not pure maple to be sold and used for just what it is, and not to command a trade on false pretence at the expense of the straight honest maple product.

The question of track elevation in Indianapolis has become a paramount issue before the legislature. It is the most important matter affecting Indianapolis this session. A meeting of the committee to which it was referred was held last night in the supreme court room, where there were a number of speeches for and against the measure. The city administration is backing it, and as there has been a disposition both on the part of the city and the roads to compromise on an equitable bill, it would not be surprising if a remedy for the grade crossing evil should be found this time.

The ways and means committee of the house and the finance committee of the senate are now holding nightly sessions behind closed doors. They are at work on the general appropriations bill, which will be presented during the last ten days of the session. Representative Sayre will have charge of it in the house and Senator Newhouse in the senate. It is probable that the report of the legislative visitation committee will be followed pretty closely, which means that the appropriations authorized will exceed $3,000,000.

No opposition to Senator Purviance's bill for a state hospital for epileptics has developed, and it seems probable the legislature will authorize an appropriation of $150,000 for a new institution. The bill has been favorably reported in the senate. It would not be surprising if the legislature should make an appropriation of nearly half a million dollars for a new hospital for the insane to be erected somewhere in southeastern Indiana.

Yaquis on the War Path.

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 1.—W. W. Daly, a prominent mining engineer and mine owner, just arrived from Minas Prietas, says that the Yaqui outbreak in Mexico is very serious. There are probably 300 Yaquis out, divided into from twelve to eighteen bands. Depredations so far have been confined to the Cocabe district. The Indians are well armed and, according to Mr. Daly, are killing Americans and Mexicans without discrimination. Twenty people, Daly says, four of whom are Americans, have been killed in the district within the past week.

THEY DON'T FORGET

The Feeling of the South Toward Gen. Miles Finds Expression.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The treatment by General Nelson A. Miles of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, during the time he was a prisoner at Fortress Monroe, Va., was recalled in the house when Mr. Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, tried to secure the adoption of the senate amendment to the house provision regarding retired officers serving with the state militia. Messrs. Hull of Iowa and Hay of Virginia, both members of the military affairs committee, endorsed the house provision making it retroactive. The latter declared it was Democratic doctrine to save money and for that reason called upon the Democrats to stand by the committee. It was at this juncture that Mr. Williams arose and spoke of the action of General Miles in placing shackles upon the ankles of Jefferson Davis. He shared, he said, the opinion of Southern men as to that, but he did not think it was the time, the place nor the way to get even. Mr. Williams' motion to agree to the senate amendment, which does not make the law concerning retired officers retroactive, was lost, 71 to 171. The bill was then sent to conference. The postoffice appropriation bill was debated for an hour.

The senate continued the consideration of the joint statehood bill with Mr. Nelson as the principal speaker. A number of bills were passed, including one largely increasing the fees for incorporating stock companies in the District of Columbia.

STRUCK A STATE SENATOR

Former Member of Illinois Legislature Is Arrested at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—Senator Daniel A. Campbell, the Republican leader in the senate, was struck in the face by ex-Senator Riley in the upper house of the Illinois legislature yesterday immediately after adjournment. Much excitement followed and two of Senator Campbell's colleagues, Mueller and Brown, and the sergeant-at-arms reached for Riley, ejected him from the chamber and placed him under arrest.

Riley has had grievances against Senator Campbell for several years and had threatened to assault the Cook county member once before.

Ruling in Hargis Case.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1.—The Kentucky court of appeals has granted a temporary writ of prohibition against Judge Watts Parker of the Fayette circuit court, restraining him from proceeding under the indictment recently found in that court against James Hargis and others charging complicity in the murder of Town Marshal Cockrill of Jackson, and from attempting to take the persons charged into custody pending final action by the court of resort here. The court then set the case down for oral argument before it on Friday Feb. 10 next, when it will pass finally on the motion of the persons charged for a permanent writ of prohibition.

A College Disaster.

Oberlin, O., Feb. 1.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of Oberlin college occurred last evening and resulted in the destruction of Baldwin Cottage, the principal ladies' dormitory, valued at $40,000. The contents of the building were saved by male students, but the dormitory itself is a total loss, nothing remaining except the walls.

In Charge of "Holding" Company.
 New York, Feb. 1.—The reorganization plan of the American ice company is to be carried out through the medium of a "holding company," to be known as the American Ice Securities company, with a capital of $20,000,000, all of which is to be common stock.

Sensational Case Transferred.
 New York, Feb. 1.—The Dodge-Morse case indictments for conspiracy and subornation of perjury have been transferred to the criminal court from the court of general sessions.

How to Clean Aluminum Ware.
 Aluminum ware is so much used now that a preparation for cleaning it will be found useful. It tarnishes quite as quickly as silver and brass, so tea-kettles, coffee-pots, etc., can be cleaned as follows: Dissolve twenty grams of borax in water and a third as much ammonia. Shake well together, apply and polish until the white, glittering effect comes that is always on new kettles.

Grand Duke Vladimir Hints at Early Formation of Something Like a Land Parliament.

The Other Side of the Great Russian Problem Presented by One Very Near the Throne.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—Grand Duke Vladimir, uncle of Emperor Nicholas and commander of the imperial guard, granted an interview at the duke's palace in Quay de la Cour, adjoining the winter palace. The correspondent was received in the grand duke's private study. "The newspapers abroad," suggested the correspondent, "have made many statements regarding the events of Jan. 22."

"I know; I have read accounts in the foreign press. I have stood aghast at the frightful stories of the butchery of innocent people which they have printed. I know they say well-intentioned patriots with a priest at their head, coming peacefully to place their grievances before his majesty were ruthlessly shot down in the streets, but we know that behind this peaceful procession was an anarchistic and socialist plot of which the overwhelming majority of the workmen were merely innocent tools. We know from examination of the dead and those arrested that some alleged priests were actually revolutionary agitators and students in disguise. We had to save the city from a mob. Unfortunately, to do so innocent and guilty suffered alike. But suppose 140,000 men had reached the gates of the winter palace; they would have sacked it as the mob sacked Versailles. From the palace they would have gone elsewhere and the whole city would have been delivered over to anarchy, riot, bloodshed and flames. Our duty was the duty of any government.

"The same situation has confronted cities in other countries. Why, because this occurred in Russia, should the whole world point the finger of scorn at us? In the midst of our difficulties, why should we be turned upon? Why should America, especially, misinterpret and think ill of us? We have always been friends—friends of a century, friends when America needed friends. I remember when America was our great friend. Why has all this changed? What has Russia done to deserve it? What has Russia done to America? Why should the foreign press, especially that of Great Britain, not hesitate before any calumny? No invention seems too horrible for them to print. They do not explain that on Saturday every dead wall in St. Petersburg was placarded with warnings to the people not to assemble. No; but they tell that thousands of innocent people were killed and other thousands wounded and paint the streets as running red with blood. They even say the dead were pushed under the ice of the Neva at night. It is infamous. They say nothing of isolated officers set upon by mobs in the streets and hammered into insensibility or of policemen killed or wounded. As a matter of fact, complete returns show that exactly 126 are dead. Several hundred were wounded; I can't give the precise figure of the wounded, but you shall have an opportunity to see the full reports."

"They say that Gorky will be hanged," suggested the correspondent. "Nonsense," replied the grand duke. "Might I ask your imperial highness' view of the present situation?" said the correspondent. "With this unhappy war upon our shoulders," said the grand duke, "we are passing through a crisis. I will not attempt to conceal it; it cannot be concealed; but with the help of God we will emerge from it as we have emerged from other troubles in the past. In the interior there are many elements of discord, but the situation is not so bad as it is painted. The disorders at Warsaw, Kieff and elsewhere are largely industrial, produced by trade depression and consequent lack of employment on account of the war. They are not revolutionary at base."

Then without being asked the grand duke went on: "People speak of a constitution. A constitution would mean the end of Russia, as the state would be gone, anarchy would supervene and when it ended the empire would be disintegrated. Finland, Poland and perhaps other frontier provinces would have broken away. Russia is not ripe for a constitution. Go out among the peasants, who comprise the vast bulk of the empire's population, and try to explain to them government by suffrage. The peasant knows nothing of government; he does not even know what the word means. He knows his emperor. For him the emperor is everything. Give the peasant a vote and all would be anarchy. Still there is necessity for reforms, and they will be granted by the autocracy."

"Maintaining the principle of autocracy, then, the people will have an opportunity to be heard in the government?" questioned the correspondent. "Yes," was the reply, "they can and I am sure they will be given a voice. Of that I am certain," and he repeated the words emphatically. "I am certain," and continued even more deliberately, "they will be given the means of presenting their needs and grievances direct to the sovereign."

With these significant words, foreshadowing perhaps the immediate granting of something in the nature of the zemskiyaboe (land parliament), the heir presumptive to the throne of the Romanoffs ended the interview.

The General Strike Situation.

Moscow, Feb. 1.—The strike here is completely over.

An Unconfirmed Rumor.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—An unconfirmed report is in circulation that it has been officially ascertained that the discharge of grape from a saluting gun during the ceremony of the blessing of the waters on Jan. 19 and which imperiled the lives of the emperor and members of his family, was a deliberate act of the terrorists, their tool being a private soldier of the saluting battery.

Employers Make Concessions.

Windau, Courland, Russia, Feb. 1.—The strikers here have resumed work. The employers conceded a number of the demands of the workmen. There have been no disturbances.

Carriers Were Too Busy.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Postmaster Gen. Wynne has under consideration the allegations that a number of carriers of the force of the post office at Toledo, O., had been charged with selling mining stock along their routes during working hours. It is likely that four of the offending carriers will be dismissed and that eighteen others will be suspended for short terms. The postal laws and regulations forbid any soliciting whatever by carriers or others in the employ of the post office.

Posse Goes After Hargis.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 1.—Sheriff Woodson McChord of Winchester and a posse have gone to Jackson to serve warrants on Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan issued by the special grand jury at Winchester, and it is expected when he brings the prisoners to Winchester he will be met by an officer from this county and the bench warrants of the Fayette circuit court served. via Pennsylvania Lines.

An exceptionally favorable time for a trip South is the special outing for Indiana tourists to be given this midwinter, offering an inexpensive jaunt for health and pleasure seekers to the famous resorts of Florida and the South, and also including two days' participation in the noted Mardi Gras festivities of New Orleans. A solid vestibule Pullman train will leave Indianapolis Union Station 7:00 p. m., on February 27th, over Pennsylvania Lines. Points of interest along the route include famous battlefields—Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga, Atlanta, Savannah, the line of Sherman's "march to the sea."

The tour embraces Ormond, the fashionable winter resort; St. Augustine, with its ancient Spanish battlements; Pensacola, of naval interest; Pass Christian, "the Newport of the South," Mobile, Birmingham, Nashville, with ample time for sight seeing. Two days will be passed in New Orleans during its great Mardi Gras celebration. Eleven days in the sunny South, away from the ice and sleet of the North, and the cost including Pullmans, only $15. In Memory of Ray McRoberts

Raymond W. McRoberts, was born June 4, 1889, at Rushville, Ind. From the time he first began to read, he was a lover of books, and in his reading showed great depth of comprehension, often speaking to those of the family of things which were considered quite beyond his years. In school he was a quiet, painstaking student. No lesson was too hard for him to try, and his mastery of subjects assigned was frequently astonishing to those who examined into his work.

He was one of those peculiar children whose appearance, from his quite demeanor and speech, and from his manner in general, led one to think him older than his years. He saw the beauty and sublimity in nature. He knew the songs of birds, and the tints of the autumn leaves were to him the coloring of a picture—beautiful, grand and sublime. He frequently impressed his parents and those with whom he talked, with the fact that he was the possessor of a keen and subtle insight into the hidden things around him and showed that he was a close observer of nature.

He united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Rushville, Ind. about two years ago under the pastorate, of Dr. M. B. Hyde, now of Indianapolis.

His sickness, scarcely a week in duration, was of acute suffering; but his anxiety through it all was to be able to get back to school which he had left in the afternoon of the last day of examination, and to complete his work.

There is much comfort to the bereaved ones in all of this. Ray was a good boy; and all believe and look for the time when in a pure and holy clime, shall see him again. We will always remember him as the dear, good boy, that he was.

The family wish to thank their neighbors and friends for their many kindnesses during the hours of their bereavement.

ANNUAL COUNCIL.

On next Saturday, February 4th, at the assembly room in Rushville, the county and township officers of the Sunday School Association will hold their annual council for the purpose of planning for the year's work; arranging dates and places for township, district and county conventions. Many important questions will be brought up for discussion. Every officer is especially urged to be present; all others who are interested in the forward movement in Sunday school work in the county are also invited to be present and take part in the discussions.

The M. E. Sunday school of Rushville, has purchased a fine slide trombone for their orchestra. It will be played by Mr. Allen.

Mr. Flint, the new superintendent of the M. E. school, is beginning his work with enthusiasm and skill. He will make a success. Help him.

Dr. F. R. McClanahan was recently elected chorister of the M. E. school.

This means that the song service will be excellent. Come and see.

Prof. M. R. McDaniel has ably assisted in the Christian Sunday school at Rushville, by teaching a class. His work is much appreciated.

Mr. Joseph Ong, vice president of the city Sunday School Association, who has been sick for two or three weeks, is able to be out now. He has been greatly missed by the school.

The attendance of all the Sunday schools and churches has fallen off very much lately on account of sickness. There are probably more persons sick in the county at this time than there has been for many years.

NOBLE TOWNSHIP.

Mr. O. F. Guffin, township president, has been sick for three weeks, but is now getting better.

Mr. Andy Guffin was not able to teach his class at Little Flatrock last Sunday.

FURTHER DETAILS

Alleged Land Frauds the Subject of Additional Indictments.

THE SPECIFIC CHARGES

It is Alleged That United States Senator Mitchell Unlawfully Prepared Affidavits.

These It is Further Alleged Were Used in Conspiracy to Defraud Government.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 1.—The federal grand jury has returned three indictments in connection with the investigation into the land frauds which it is alleged have been perpetrated upon the United States government.

The first indictment is against United States Senator John H. Mitchell, Congressman Binger Hermann, S. A. D. Puter, Horace McKinley, Emma L. Watson, Daniel W. Tarpley, Elbert K. Brown, Nellie Brown, his wife; Henry A. Young, Frank H. Walgamot, Clark E. Loomis and Salmon B. Ormsby. They are charged with having conspired on Feb. 1, 1902, to defraud the United States government of public lands by preparing and signing affidavits as to the occupation and settlement of these lands.

Senator Mitchell is specifically charged with having at Washington, D. C. on March 3, 1902, unlawfully prepared an affidavit for Emma L. Watson to sign, in which Mrs. Watson untruthfully swore that she was a bona-fide settler on a portion of these lands. It also charges that Senator Mitchell prepared unlawfully an affidavit for S. A. D. Puter to sign, in which Puter is alleged to have sworn that he knew the contents of the Watson affidavit were true. The indictment charges that Mitchell received as compensation for his alleged services the sum of $2,000 paid to him by Puter. The affidavit goes on to state that in pursuance of the conspiracy Senator Mitchell introduced Puter to William A. Richards, the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, stating that Puter was one of the most honorable citizens in the state.

The second indictment is against Henry W. Miller, Frank E. Kincart, Martin G. Hoge and Charles Nickell, late of Medford, Ore. It charges that these persons on Aug. 31, 1904, unlawfully conspired to procure one hundred other persons to commit perjury by making false oaths that certain lands in the Medford land district known as timber and stone lands were being bought in good faith and not for purposes of speculation. These persons falsely swore that they had not contracted to sell these lands when, in fact, they were buying them on speculation.

The third indictment charges Mayor William Davis of Albany, Ore., with having uttered a false affidavit. This is the second indictment against Mayor Davis.

NO APPARENT CONNECTION

Russian Advance Was Not to Offset Civil Disturbance.

Mukden, Feb. 1.—There is no apparent connection between the starting of the battle of Jan. 26 and the domestic excitement at St. Petersburg, nor orders just issued to abandon the planned advance against the Japanese positions.

The effect of the trouble in Russia is as yet unimportant here. The facts are not generally known. Officers possessing information of occurrences at home say that the disaffected are probably using the present war as a pretext for their periodical demonstrations, which where known are regarded no more seriously than formerly.

The commander-in-chief's orders to abandon the advance are reported to state two reasons for stopping the advance: first, the losses sustained; second, the failure of a quick attack upon which the advance depended. The precise meaning of the above is not apparent. Notwithstanding the order to cease, a tenacious conflict continued in the vicinity of San Chiapu, a fortified outpost on the Japanese left, where it is reported the Russians have taken the outer works.

A Lull in the Fighting.

Mukden, Feb. 1.—There is another lull in the fighting but it is impossible to tell how long it will last. The Russian losses the last few days were about 10,000. Many of the bodies of the killed have not yet been gathered. The Japanese losses, according to Chinese reports, were also heavy. The Russians took about 500 prisoners.

Death in the Coaster.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 1.—While coasting Earl Reynolds was killed; Thomas Davis was fatally injured; Mary Reynolds was painfully bruised and cut. A man named Valentine had a leg broken and Charles Lester had his head badly cut besides suffering internal injuries. The killed and injured are all small children who were coasting on a big sled down the steep hill. When the sled struck a big dray all of the children were thrown under the horses which trampled the life out of one and injured the others.

Cures and Prevents Disease

The cause of ninety per cent of all diseases is a faulty digestive and drainage system—the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Let one of these organs become clogged or impervious, there remains in the system many poisons that will, in time, breed disease, difficult to correct. One should never allow even a temporary stoppage of any one of these organs—they should be kept constantly in perfect working order.

SEVEN BARKS

Is positively the ideal corrective of all internal ailments. It is not a patent medicine, but an honest, vegetable preparation, extracted from the bark of a species of the Hydrangea plant. Its curative properties are numerous. It is a mild cathartic—an alterative—diuretic, soothing, healing and tonic. An occasional dose will keep the whole system in perfect condition and will act as a safeguard against disease.

Seven Barks has been on the American market for over thirty-five years. Its distributors have reams of high-praising letters from people in every walk of life. Thousands of families are never without a bottle. The oldest friends are our best.

Test it for Yourself

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle, and if it does not do all that is claimed, take the empty or partly consumed bottle back and get your money. One New York City druggist sold 720 bottles on this basis before one dissatisfied purchaser asked for the return of his money.

Prosperity Sale!

$$ CUT PRICE SHOE FEAST $$
Saved

Last year was a winner for us. We sold lots of shoes, and mighty good ones, too, and this year will be even better. We're sure of that. We only reserve our fine grade Dorothy Dodd faultless fitting Ladies' Shoes. These are always sold at very low prices.

With this increasing volume of business we are bound to have a surplus of shoes, goods which we had to order from time to time to meet probable demands and keep our lines full. This surplus of mediums add winter weights is still in the store.

We have ordered more Spring Shoes, some of which will soon be on the road, and we must make room for them.

We are up against the proposition of getting those surplus shoes off our shelves, and quick, too. There is only one way to do it—by reducing prices.

We therefore place before you a cut-price feast that is unparalleled—an opportunity to get shoes for the rest of the winter and early spring wear, the like of which you never knew.

We'll bring prosperity face to face with every man, woman and child hereabouts.

Big yellow Hous on the corner Harrison and Second street.

Fortunate indeed were those faithful members of the Ladies' Band of Workers who received the above invitation, written in a most unique style with pencil on coarse brown paper, for certainly a more enjoyable evening was never spent at a masked party.

By 7:30 p. m. the guests had all arrived attired so ridiculously in their strange costumes that one might have mistaken them for comedians in some operatic troupe. They were heartily welcomed by the reception committee, who, thanks to the Cincinnati Enquirer, had a very clever assistant in the performance of their duties, Katzen-janer by name who unluckily had not profited by the ancient example set by Haman.

A new kind of music was introduced during the reception of the guests. The idea was quite novel and attractive and may soon become the proud successor of the pipe organ, for it needs neither to be run by electricity or water. It is a thoroughly new invention. The machine is made out of an ordinary wash-tub, three musical apparatus inside being entirely by a meat grinder.

After all had been duly received, Miss Edith Lore, mistress of ceremonies, ordered the program to be rendered as follows:

Song—Rag Glee Club.
Duet—Julia Reve King and her best pupil Osder Ote.
Song—A Timid Little Miss.
Duet—Two members of the colored aristocratic string band.
Selection by an orchestra who have graduated under Creator.

Cake Walk—Frog Eye, Emy Eliza Jonsing and company.

All the guests participated in the last number and the cake was awarded to Mrs. Gavin and Mrs. Ralph Payne.

When the call was given to unmask, one of the guests sternly refused and guiltily endeavored to make her retreat from notice. All efforts for a while to induce her to take off her mask were fruitless, but finally when assured that she would not be punished for intruding, she complied with the demands and was allowed to take part in the remainder of the entertainment.

Two merciless members of the party then induced the others to take part in the telephone play, and much fun was had at the expense of the victims. Light refreshments, cake and pop corn were served.

It might be well to mention the selection given as the first number on the program, a very amusing burlesque on the old song, "Annie Laurie."

We belong to the band of workers.
And we thought we'd have a show,
In our band there are no shirkers,
But sometimes we're sort of slow,
And a little life need we,
So we thought masked party
Might rouse us from sleep, you see.

We hope the other division
Of our band will follow suit,
And at once make their decision
To have something just as cute,
Something rollicking and gay,
And wake up our band of workers,
Please folks do it right away.

We've enjoyed a long vacation,
There has nothing much been done,
Of rest we've had our ration,
Now it's time that work's begun,
Let's go at it with our might,
And try and maintain our record
Of doing things up about right.
